SKYRA MISSION STATEMENT

A meal may begin with ingredients, technique, and intent, but its true value is realized only at the moment it is served.

Across the world's finest hotels and resorts, guests willingly pay far beyond the cost of food itself. They pay for confidence. For consistency.

For the assurance that every detail from temperature to timing, from presentation to performance, has been considered and perfected. Above all, they pay for taste that delivers on expectation.

Taste is not created in the kitchen alone. It is fragile. It fades with time, temperature, and handling. A perfectly cooked dish can lose its character in minutes.

A beautifully designed menu can be undermined by a compromised service moment. In luxury hospitality, these moments matter, because guests remember how food made them feel long after the table is cleared.

Equally, trust is non-negotiable. Guests are increasingly more informed, more discerning, and more conscious of food safety and hygiene than ever before. The standards they expect are uncompromising, and the consequences of failure—reputational, operational, and emotional—are profound.

Yet between the precision of the kitchen and the experience of the diner lies a critical space: the point of service. This is where quality must be protected, not exposed. Where freshness must be preserved, not assumed.

Where the Skyra Professional engineering quietly supports hospitality without ever drawing attention to itself. This is the space Skyra Professional was created to serve. Skyra builds systems for the chef that understands that excellence is not only about how food is prepared—but how it arrives.

The Skyra Mission: To innovate serving systems for fresher food

64 Years of Original Equipment Manufacturing for the finest tableware brands across the world. This decades-old heritage has given us the necessary understanding and capabilities of making the highest quality products.

At Skyra Professional, design begins where food meets the moment of service.

We collaborate closely with the world's leading professional chefs, culinary teams, and hospitality operators to re-imagine how food is presented, preserved, and experienced—at its freshest.

Skyra was founded on the belief that serving systems are not accessories; they are an extension of the kitchen itself. Every product we create is informed by real-world service conditions, chef workflows, and the uncompromising standards of modern hospitality.

Our inspiration comes from three sources:

the intelligence of chefs at the pass, the integrity of advanced materials, and the pursuit of engineering solutions that protect food quality without compromising aesthetics.

Our Design Principles

→ Chef-driven innovation

Every Skyra system is co-developed with culinary professionals to ensure optimal temperature control, hygiene, ergonomics, and speed of service—so food reaches the guest exactly as intended.

→ Purpose-built elegance

We design with restraint and clarity, balancing visual sophistication with functional precision. Each form exists for a reason, enhancing presentation while seamlessly integrating into luxury buffet, live-cooking, and service environments.

→ Modular intelligence

Skyra products are conceived as flexible systems, not fixed objects—allowing chefs and operators to adapt layouts, scale capacity, and evolve presentations without redesigning their entire setup.

→ Engineered longevity

From material selection to surface finishes and mechanical components, every detail is engineered for the demands of professional hospitality—ensuring durability, serviceability, and long-term value with reduced waste.

By uniting culinary insight with industrial design and engineering rigor, Skyra empowers hospitality brands to serve food that is fresher, more consistent, and more memorable—today, and for the future of professional food service.

SKYRA PRODUCT DESIGN

In the initial discovery phase, the design process begins by immersing ourselves in our Chef Partner vision to ensure that every creative decision is backed by strategic intent. We facilitate deep-dive workshops where we treat our Chef Partner as a primary subject matter expert, uncovering the core business objectives and user pain points that the product must address.

By synthesizing our Chef Partner's industry knowledge with our design expertise, we move beyond surface-level aesthetics to define a product roadmap that prioritizes both functionality and market differentiation.

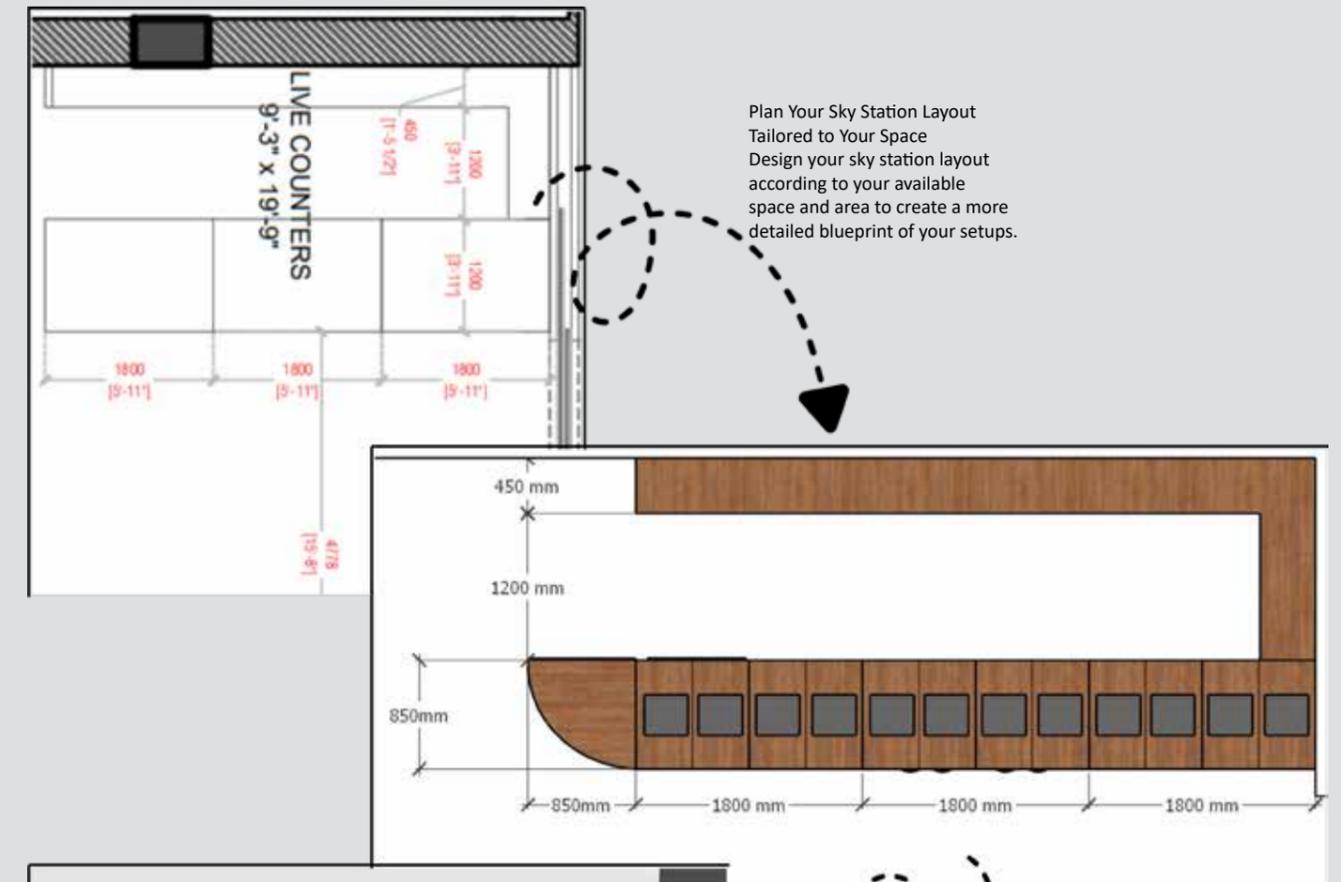

SKYRA SPACE PLANNING

FORGE FRAME ELEVATION RISER SERIES

MS Frames : Unlike acrylic or plastic risers, powder-coated mild steel provides a heavy-duty foundation that won't wobble or crack under the weight of heavy ceramic platters or cast-iron pans.

Acacia Wood : Known for being incredibly dense and water-resistant, Acacia is less likely to warp or scratch compared to softer woods, making it ideal for high-traffic food service

Increases the "plate capacity" of a small table footprint.

Creates visual interest and a "landscape" for the food, making the buffet look more abundant and professional.

QUANTA COLLECTION CHROME FINISH

Premium stainless steel service cutlery with a sleek, hotel-grade finish—designed for elegant presentation, superior durability, and effortless professional use.

CURVED HOLLOW COLLECTION CHROME FINISH

The design is neither strictly traditional nor ultra-modern. Its clean lines and smooth curves make it a "transitional" piece, meaning it looks just as good on a rustic wooden farmhouse table as it does on a crisp white tablecloth in a high-end restaurant.

Where innovation meets elegance: Unfold, savor, and impress

Modern Industrial Fusion: The contrast between the matte black powder-coated frame and the warm, natural grain of the HPL (High-Pressure Laminate) creates a contemporary look that fits both residential kitchens and commercial event spaces.

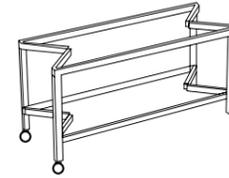

Exposed Edge Detailing: The "exposed" panel design highlights the structural integrity of the piece, giving it a raw, architectural edge that is highly popular in modern interior design.

Seamless Integration: The panel allows you to hide clutter (like extra plates or cleaning supplies) while keeping frequently used items on the open shelves for easy access.

 - Weather Resistant
 - Scratch & Impact Resistant
 - Heat Resistant
2. Space-Saving Folding Mechanism Fast Setup
 - Flat Storage

3. Minimalist Silhouette: The thin HPL profile and clean black metal lines give it a high-end, architectural look.
4. Easy-Clean: The non-porous HPL surface is incredibly easy to wipe down and sanitize between guests, and it won't stain from spilled red wine or coffee.

CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Skyra professional tableware has a 65-year-old heritage in tableware and special finishes. We continue to lead the global industry by consistently investing into the latest technological advancements.

The brand strives to have the absolute highest quality in stainless steel, wood and coatings. They are as delicate as they are beautiful and should be handled with great care.

Please carefully follow the Product Care instructions below:

Chafing Dishes

- Chafing Dishes are only to be used for warming and not for cooking. Most Skyra dishes can be used with fuel, electrical pad and warming inductions.
- Food is generally warmed at 60-75 deg C. The Chafing dish is designed to work at a maximum temperature of 75 deg C. Using a heat source of a higher temperature or using cooking sources will damage the coating of the dish.
- The Food pan should be removed from the chafing dish and cleaned separately in a dish washer.
- The surface in contact and around the heat source is called the heat affected zone (HAZ). This area will discolour after the first use. This is not a manufacturing defect.
- The HAZ is usually restricted to the bottom and bottom edges. However, it may spread to the lower half of the Water Pan as well.
- Chafing Fuel releases carbon dioxide which will leave a black residue on the heat affected zone. While most of the residue can be cleaned with a gentle cloth dipped in mild soapy water, it may not be fully eliminated.
- Please do not use the chafing dish without water. This will create high temperature air in the water pan which will expand on heating and increase the heat affected zone.
- Any food dropped on the exterior of the dish, especially acidic foods should be immediately wiped clean. Ignoring the same beyond 30 minutes may create permanent stains on the surface coating.
- Please do not attempt to scrub the dish or any part of it. Do not use industrial detergent or cleaning agents or wash it in the dishwasher. This will damage the exterior coating.
- Skyra warrants all manufacturing defects. Heat discoloration or wear and tear as a result of not following the product care instructions above is not covered under warranty.
